

ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY

At Grupo México, sustainable development is part of our business model. Through the protection of natural heritage and the efficient use of resources, we reaffirm our commitment to future generations, promoting a development that benefits all of us, today and tomorrow. We are committed to the Paris Agreement on climate change, to the continuous improvement of our environmental performance, and to promoting the adoption of best environmental practices in our operations. We contribute to the transition towards a green economy.

WE ARE COMMITTED TO:

1. Planning, designing, building, and operating our facilities responsibly and with a preventive approach throughout their life cycle.
2. Avoiding and reducing the risks and impacts that our operations could pose to the environment.
3. Minimizing our impact on soil, waste generation, and discharges and emissions.
4. Strengthening our environmental performance through a continuous improvement process that, in addition to complying with applicable regulations, promotes the best environmental practices.
5. Establishing goals, objectives, and metrics to monitor and disclose the continuous improvement of our environmental performance.
6. Reducing our carbon footprint and contributing to operations that are resilient to climate change.
7. Conserving water through more efficient production processes and contributing to its availability in the regions where we operate.
8. Promoting energy efficiency.
9. Contributing to the protection and conservation of biodiversity and the environmental services provided by ecosystems to achieve a net positive impact.
10. Engaging our stakeholders and proactively and meaningfully communicating our environmental efforts, as well as raising awareness and training our employees and contractors on the importance of protecting the environment and their environmental responsibilities.

Grupo México personnel and their key business partners (including suppliers, contractors, service providers, distributors, joint ventures, acquisitions, and third parties with any business relationship, as applicable), in the Mining division (including Southern Copper Corporation and all other subsidiaries), the Transportation division (Grupo México Transportes and its subsidiaries), and the Infrastructure division (including all its subsidiaries) in all countries where we operate, are subject to this policy and must integrate these commitments into their daily activities.
